Lesson 09

The book of Revelation presents God’s final message for a world in deep trouble. It is a message especially designed for a people living during the final, climactic hours of earth’s history. It is a universal message that leaps across geographical boundaries. It is a message for all nations, tribes, languages, and peoples. It is an urgent, compelling message of good news. It is an urgent appeal for men and women everywhere to prepare for the soon return of Christ.

As we have studied in our previous lessons, only in Christ are men and women capable of meeting the claims of God’s law in earth’s final judgment hour. God’s last-day message is a message of surrender and commitment.

In this secular, materialistic age of humanistic thinking, many have dismissed the idea of a God who created the heavens and the earth. The theory of evolution has replaced the Bible teaching of creation. It is not surprising to find God sounding a clarion call to worship Christ as our Creator in the Bible’s last book, Revelation.

1. Who is Revelation 14:6, 7 calling us to worship?
2. What is the basis of all worship? Revelation 4:11
3. Who was the active agent in Creation? Ephesians 3:8, 9; Colossians 1:15, 16
4. How do we worship Christ as the Creator? Has He left a memorial of His creative activity? Exodus 20:8-11
5. Wasn’t the Sabbath given only for the Jews? Mark 2:27, 28
6. What three things did God do to set aside and distinguish the seventh day from all other days of the week? Genesis 2:1-3
